

Get to Know New York's Airspace!

Are you intimidated by New York's alphabet-soup of airspace? Not sure how to handle the SFRA? Think that Class B is only for airline pilots? Attend this informative and interesting presentation designed to demystify the airspace surrounding the NYC area. Join us as Brooklyn local and KFRG-based instructor Amelia Griffith (CFII, MEI, AGI) leads a presentation and discussion about our local airspace. Topics will include: review of airspace types, how to navigate local airspace including the Hudson SFRA, airport operations from Class E to Class B, working with local Air Traffic Controllers Click here to RSVP:
